

MARIN

B

Doug Wilks, City Editor 382-7294

ould be that interested in
But he would be interested led the game."
of Vineyard Christian Fellow-

Final shelter plans shown today

Panel to consider Hamilton project design

By John R. Moses
Independent Journal reporter

Designers of the county's first permanent homeless shelter bring their final plans before the Novato Planning Commission today.

Meeting tonight

Novato Planning Commission meets at 7:30 tonight at the Community House Council Chambers, 808 Main Ave.

the Hamilton commissary.
The Novato Planning Commission gets a look at the newest design scheme today. If planners approve the project, the city's Design Review Committee could act on the plans by Feb. 19.
If all goes as planned, shelter at

SHELTER PLAN: Above is a master plan drawing of the Hamilton Service Center, the proposed homeless job training center, by architect Morton Frank.

MORTON FRANK, FAIA, ARCHITECT

SAN FRANCISCO / REDWOOD CITY, CALIFORNIA

© 2001 MORTON FRANK, FAIA - All Rights Reserved.